List of participating cities and institutions

List of participating cities and institutions

Blatnice pod Světým Antonínkem
Blatnice pod Světým Antonínkem
Czech Republic
Phone: +420 518 331 221
starosty@obcblatnice.cz
www.obcblatnice.cz

J. A. Comenius had relatives in Blatnice – Štěpán and Eliáš Komenský (Comenius), Jan, and Pavel Daremník; he also especially mentions Anna. He also had a vineyard in the village and so had his sister Kateřina. These vineyards had originally belonged to their father Mar

Jan Amos Comenius Museum
Přemysl Otakara II. 37, Czech Republic
Phone: +420 572 63 22 88-9
museum@mjakub.cz
www.mjakub.cz

Since its foundation in 1898, the museum in Uherský Brod concentrates on the life and work of J. A. Comenius. Comenius Museum collects old prints of his works, items connected to his activities and his personality and related scientific literature. The current name of the museum has been used since 1945. From that moment, comenian literature is essential for the museum. The institution collects Comenian, stages exhibitions, takes part in comeniological conferences and from 1974 it hosts and publishes a specialized magazine. The world’s widest permanent exhibition on Comenius’ stay in Brandýs is the most precious document in the Memorial room of Jan Amos Comenius in the town hall.

Brandýs nad Orlicí
Memorial room of Jan Amos Comenius náměstí Komenského 203, Czech Republic
Phone: +420 455 544 135
info@comenius-brandys.cz
www.mesto-brandys.cz

J. A. Comenius Memorial is the natural destination of comeniological literature. The current name of the museum has been used since 1945.

Přerov – Comenius Museum in Přerov, CZ
Strážnice – Museum and Local History Association, CZ
Přerov – Comenius Museum in Přerov, CZ
Strážnice – Museum and Local History Association, CZ

Přerov – Comenius Museum in Přerov
Horní náměstí 7, Czech Republic
Phone: +420 581 250 531
pokladna@prerovmuzeum.cz
www.pokladna.cz

The building housing today the Memorial Jan Amos Comenius is part of the premises of the former Czech Brethren congregation in Fulnek that came into being in 1484. Next to the prayer room there used to be a free manufacture, a spa, a parish church, and other ecclesiastic and profane buildings. The museum houses a permanent exhibition on Comenius and a reconstitution of four historical classrooms. In Přerov where Comenius studied and gained his first pedagogical experiences, there is his monument, memorial plaque and archaeological site with relics of the seat of Czech Brethren.

Fulnek
Museum of Nový Jičín region / J. A. Comenius Memorial
Strossová 80, Czech Republic
Phone: +420 596 741 915
sekretariat@muzeum.cz
fulnek@muzeum.cz
www.muzeum.cz

The museum in Uherský Brod concentrates on the life and work of J. A. Comenius. Comenius Museum collects old prints of his works, items connected to his activities and his personality and related scientific literature. The current name of the museum has been used since 1945. From that moment, comenian literature is essential for the museum. The institution collects Comenian, stages exhibitions, takes part in comeniological conferences and from 1974 it hosts and publishes a specialized magazine. The world’s widest permanent exhibition on Comenius’ stay in Brandýs is the most precious document in the Memorial room of Jan Amos Comenius in the town hall.

Valdštejnská 20, Malá Strana
Czech Republic
Phone: +420 207 533 455
pedagogy@upkp.cz
www.npmk.cz

The Comenius Museum including a library was founded in 1992 as a result of the efforts of Czech teachers to preserve and document historical traditions of the Czech education system and pedagogy. Since 1992 it has been a state resort museum under the auspices of the Ministry of Education, Youth and Sport. The museum stages a permanent exhibition entitled “Legacy of J. A. Comenius. Traditions and challenges of Czech education for Europe.” It shows the thousand year history of Czech schools, teachers and education from Middle Ages to the present including the contribution of J. A. Comenius. The main task of the public pedagogical library contributes to the study of pedagogy and education system. The National Pedagogical Museum and Library provide specialized exhibitions, publications, seminars, conferences, accredited programmes, lectures and methodical support in the field of education and promotes the pedagogical legacy of J. A. Comenius.

Prague
J. A. Comenius National Pedagogical Museum and Library
Valdštejnská 20, Malá Strana
Czech Republic
Phone: +420 207 533 455
pedagogy@upkp.cz
www.npmk.cz

J. A. Comenius had relatives in Blatnice – Štěpán and Eliáš Komenský (Comenius), Jan, and Pavel Daremník; he also especially mentions Anna. He also had a vineyard in the village and so had his sister Kateřina. These vineyards had originally belonged to their father Mar

Přerov – Comenius Museum in Přerov
Horní náměstí 7, Czech Republic
Phone: +420 581 250 531
pokladna@prerovmuzeum.cz
www.pokladna.cz

The building housing today the Memorial Jan Amos Comenius is part of the premises of the former Czech Brethren congregation in Fulnek that came into being in 1484. Next to the prayer room there used to be a free manufacture, a spa, a parish church, and other ecclesiastic and profane buildings. The museum houses a permanent exhibition on Comenius and a reconstitution of four historical classrooms. In Přerov where Comenius studied and gained his first pedagogical experiences, there is his monument, memorial plaque and archaeological site with relics of the seat of Czech Brethren.

Fulnek
Museum of Nový Jičín region / J. A. Comenius Memorial
Strossová 80, Czech Republic
Phone: +420 596 741 915
sekretariat@muzeum.cz
fulnek@muzeum.cz
www.muzeum.cz

The building housing today the Memorial Jan Amos Comenius is part of the premises of the former Czech Brethren congregation in Fulnek that came into being in 1484. Next to the prayer room there used to be a free manufacture, a spa, a parish church, and other ecclesiastic and profane buildings. The museum houses a permanent exhibition on Comenius and a reconstitution of four historical classrooms. In Přerov where Comenius studied and gained his first pedagogical experiences, there is his monument, memorial plaque and archaeological site with relics of the seat of Czech Brethren.

J. A. Comenius had relatives in Blatnice – Štěpán and Eliáš Komenský (Comenius), Jan, and Pavel Daremník; he also especially mentions Anna. He also had a vineyard in the village and so had his sister Kateřina. These vineyards had originally belonged to their father Mar Comenius was ordained a priest. Today, the memorial and the exhibition of folk art and crafts are to be found on the very place where he was promoted. Other interesting monuments are connected to him: in the old fortress is the grave of Marie Costinova of Petrovsko, the Baroka St. Barbara’s chapel in the cemetery, the mansion from 1540 (converted into school in 1847) from which only the gable remains, the plague column with the sculptural group of the Holy Family, a stone cross in the cemetery and chapels.

Jablonec nad Nisou was placed on the frontage of the castle. A small group of Czech Brethren gathered in 1627–1628 and prepared its departure to Leszno in Poland. This event was organized under the sponsorship of seven Elder took place in the township. At the synod held on April 24, 1616 the than 24-year-old Jan Amos Comenius was appointed priest. Today, the memorial and the exhibition of folk art and crafts are to be found on the very place where he was promoted. Other interesting monuments are connected to him: in the old fortress is the grave of Marie Costinova of Petrovsko, the Baroka St. Barbara’s chapel in the cemetery, the mansion from 1540 (converted into school in 1847) from which only the gable remains, the plague column with the sculptural group of the Holy Family, a stone cross in the cemetery and chapels.

In the village Horní Branná in the domain of Václav Záruba of Hustiša, Kralice Václav Elam printed the booklet J. A. Comenius´ Reflections on Christian perfection. The Memorial of the Kralice Bible was laid; the Museum Association for preservation of monuments and prints of Czech Brethren worked there. Archives were added. The growth of the Bibliotheca Comeniana – the Memorial of Bible – connected to Comenius´ personality and work of J. A. Comenius. In other exhibition on the history of the village and on the life of J. A. Comenius.

Vlčice u Trutnova
Vlčice 201, Czech Republic
Phone: +420 499 899 133, +420 499 899 240
podatelna@ou-vlčice.cz
www.ou-vlčice.cz

The village Vlčice is situated in the south-eastern part of Zlín region, on the foot of White Carpats. Based on numerous proofs it is considered as the birthplace of J. A. Comenius which is commemorated with a memorial plaque on Blatkí mill; J. A. Comenius Education library and the Memorial of Bible. The cemetery gate at St. Adalbert-priest. Today, the memorial and the exhibition of folk art and crafts are to be found on the very place where he was promoted. Other interesting monuments are connected to him: in the old fortress is the grave of Marie Costinova of Petrovsko, the Baroka St. Barbara’s chapel in the cemetery, the mansion from 1540 (converted into school in 1847) from which only the gable remains, the plague column with the sculptural group of the Holy Family, a stone cross in the cemetery and chapels.

Kralice nad Oslavou
Minicipal Cultural Centre
Masarykovo náměstí 100, Czech Republic
Phone: +420 568 620 493
info@kralicenosl.cz
www.kralicenosl.cz

The city of Naarden with 17 000 inhabitants in the Kingdom of the Netherlands is the place of the eternal rest of Jan Amos Comenius. The historical city centre lies in the picturesque compound of the former star-shaped fortress of the Groote Commenius – the former monastic chapel, later an evangelical church, is arranged with reverence and respect. The Králice mumerie made in the former tower house in 1845. A new castle was built directly in Vlčice in the second half of the 18th century. J. A. Comenius visited the castle library in 1627 when he stayed in Třemešná. He studied there writings that inspired him to the first version of his Didaktika česká describing for the first time the principles of modern pedagogy. From Vlčice J. A. Comenius returned to Třemešná. In Febru-

The city of Naarden with 17 000 inhabitants in the Kingdom of the Netherlands is the place of the eternal rest of Jan Amos Comenius. The historical city centre lies in the picturesque compound of the former star-shaped fortress of the Groote Commenius – the former monastic chapel, later an evangelical church, is arranged with reverence and respect. The Králice mumerie made in the former tower house in 1845. A new castle was built directly in Vlčice in the second half of the 18th century. J. A. Comenius visited the castle library in 1627 when he stayed in Třemešná. He studied there writings that inspired him to the first version of his Didaktika česká describing for the first time the principles of modern pedagogy. From Vlčice J. A. Comenius returned to Třemešná. In Februa-

The village Nýřany is animated by the activity of more than twenty associations.

The village Nýřany is animated by the activity of more than twenty associations.

The village Nýřany is animated by the activity of more than twenty associations.